Ecumenical Dialogues

Ecumenical dialogues are official theological talks between two or more churches or families of churches aimed at overcoming the inherited divergences, often related to doctrine and church order, that separate them.

Through international bilateral and multilateral dialogues, the World Alliance of Reformed Churches helps to foster deeper understanding and broader cooperation among different church families and to make available to the whole church of Christ the gifts of Reformed faith and life. Here is an overview of the ecumenical work accomplished by the Alliance in the past decades. The reports of ecumenical dialogues are available for download here or in the Ecumenical Reformed Library.
